UNITED STATES COMMISSIONERS' COURT. Selling Counterfeit Currency Stamps.

Before Commissioner Shields. Edward Early, who keeps a liquor saloen on Tenth avenue, was charged yesterday with having tenavenue, was charged years at stamps in payment dered eight counterfelt fifty cent stamps in payment of a quantity of cigars which he purchased of Julius Bryfus. The defendant was admitted to bat in the sum of $1,000 to appear for examination to-day.

Alleged Violation of the Internal Revenue Law. Before Commissioner Osborn.

Thomas Tighe, a wholesale and retail liquor dealer, was arrested on complaint of David Irish that he transacted his business without payment of the special tax required by the internal revenue laws. He gave ball for an examination.

Murder Cases Called and Arrangements Made for the Trials. Before Judge Ingraham.

In this Court the cases of several persons accused of murder were called for trial vesterday morning. THE HOMICIDE OF ROCKE BEFTS.

The first case was that of Jeremiah Evan, Indicted for murder in the first degree, in stabbing Roger Betts, on the 24th of November last, in Roose veit street. The necused had previously pleaded not guilty to the charge. Mr. A. H. Hummell, counnot guity to the charge. Ar. A. H. Hummen, counsel in the case, was in attendance before the Coroner in the examination of Dr. Gyles, accused of abortion, and he being best conversant with all the facts in the case bearing upon the prisoner's defence, his attendance was necessary in order to proceed with the trial. Mr. Hummel added that the attendance of two material witnesses was also important, whose presence it had been impossible to obtain thus far. Upon this explanation, and the same being satisfactory to the Court and the District Attorney, the trial was set down for next Monday.

THE MURDER OF OFFICER LAMBECGAT.
In the case of George Lowry, indicted for the murder of Detective Philip Lambrecht, of the Nineteenth precinct, in April, Mr. Hummel made the same explanation as above, as to the absence of Mr. Howe, the prisoner's counsel. The Court directed that Mr. Howe be notified to confer with the District Attorney and arrange the time of trial.

THE KILLING OF THE ITALIAN PETRELLI.

Michael de Rosa, an Italian, charged with killing, in February last, at 37 Mulberry street, Emil Petrelli, also an Italian, pleaded not gailty. His counsel, Mr. Price, said he was ready to proceed with the trial at once. It was arranged that he consult with the District Attorney as to the time of trial.

THE SEIGFRED POISONING CASE.

Frederick Hagzl, accused of poisoning Seigfried sel for the accused, stated that Mr. Howe, principal

THE SEIGFRIED POISONING CASE.

Frederick Haggi, accused of poisoning Scigfried three years ago and recently arrested on a bench warrant, the body of the decensed having been exhumed and traces of arsenic, as alleged, having been found, pleaded not guilty. His counsel, ex-Judge Porter, was instructed to arrange with the District Attorney the day of trial.

In the case of Daniel W. Warren, the indictment against whom is that of manslaughter, the Court directed that Mr. Howe, his counsel, be instructed to arrange time of trial with the District Attorney. There being no further business the Court adjourned till this morning, and meantime those summoned as jurors were discharged till that time.

Dispute as to the Custodianship of a

Before Judge Leonard. In re Ann Petrowski.-This is an application on writ of habeas corpus for the custody of the relator, a young girl. Mr. John Hess brought the child into Court in obedience to the writ. Mr. William F. Kintzing, his counsel, stated that the parents of the child were dead, and that on the death of the father he gave the child to Mr. Hess. In April last an uncle of the child obtained permission to take her to Brooklyn and renued to give her up. Mr. Hess, therefore, obtained a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Pratt and regained possession of the child. The uncle now seeks in this Court to have the child given to him. Mr. Smith, his counsel, strongly urged his claims as an uncle and on the ground of having been appointed her guardian by the Surrogate. The Court appointed C. E. Price as referee to investigate the facts in the case.

The Hayes Murder Case-The Witness Rochester Detained as a Witness. Before Recorder Hackett.

Shortly after the opening of the Court yesterday Assistant District Attorney Fellows stated that Lewis C. Rochester was arrested upon a bench warrant and now at the bar. He moved that he be committed to the House of Detention, in default of $1,000 bail. His Honor granted the motion, and di-rected the case of Michael Haves, charged with a murder said to have been committed fifteen years ago, to be set down for Friday. Mayhem.

George Leland pleaded guilty to the offence of mayhem, the charge being that on the 12th of this month, while in a tager beer saloon in Hudson street, he assaulted William H. Gage by cutting a piece out of his carand nose. There was no de-fence, and the Recorder rentenced the prisoner to the State Prison for seven years.

A Novel Case-Two Live Turtles in Court as Witnesses-An Obstinate Juror Pre-

Most of the session was occupied in the trial of an Indictment for misdemeanor preferred by Mr. Henry Bergh, the President of the Society for the Prevention of Crucity to Animals, against Lawrence Green and Eugene G. Blackford. It appeared from

Green and Engene G. Blackford. It appeared from the testimony that Mr. Blackford is an extensive dealer in turtles, and wished to make this a test case. The defendant claimed that the turtles must be tied and placed upon their backs when transported to market, but Assistant District Attorney Fellows contended that the dealers in these animals could and could be devise a more humane way of treating them, and expressed the hope that Mr. Bergh would prosecute these cases until some such method could be devised.

Mr. Bergh testined that on the 16th of October, 1871, while passing through Beckman street, he saw the defendant Green, an employe of Mr. Blackford, driving a wagon in which there was a large-sized turtle lying on its back; its head was jammed against the side of the wagon, the blood was coxing from its belly, the back was crushed in and the boiltom of the wagon was stalacd with gore. The turtle was alive at the time, although it seemed to be dying. The driver asked Mr. Bergh te 70 to the market and see his employer, Mr. Blackford, who said that if he awanted to arrest anybody he (Mr. Blackford) was the person, for Green was acting according to his orders. The parties and the turtle were taken to the station house, and gubsequently the horse, wagon and turtle were conveyed to a stable at a distance.

distance.
Sergeants Blair and Firth is stiffed as to the condition of the turtle when brought to the station

Engene G. Blackford deposed that turtles are Eugene G. Blackford deposed that turtles are brought to this city in vessels upon their backs, with their dippers tied together. A: the juncture two live turtles were brought into Court and placed before the jury, which created considerable herriment. They were put on their backs, which drew out the suggestion from the Recorder that in a court of justice the law should not be violated, and directed that the turtles be placed on bleir beilles. The flippers of one of the thirdless were tied, which is the usual method by which they are transported to this city and the other turtle was left united; the back of this one was almost broken in consequence of its dence by referring to the turtles and said that the turtle in question was taken from a tank in the East River upon the Cay Mr. Bergh made the arrest; that it was put into the wagon fifteen minutes before Bergh Faw it; that it was in a healthy and plump condition and that the blood on it would not cover a finger.

Green, the carman, and other witnesses testified that the turtle was in good condition.

A number of extensive dealers in turtles were also examined by Messix, Anthon and Blunt, all of whom testified as to the manner in which turtles are brought to this market and treated while here. They were unanimous in saying that the dippers must be tied, or else injury might be inflicted upon the person handling them, as well as upon the turtles themselves. At the conclusion of the testimony tha Recorder said that there was no evidence implicating Mr. Blackford and that he should not be held. After being out for nearly two hours, the jury were discharged, as they failed to agree upon a verdict. It seems that there were eleven for acquittal and one for conviction of "unintentional evuelty." He thought the carman, Green, was guilty of carrying the turtle in a cruci maxner, but that he did not intend it. The other eleven jurors were so stabborn that they could not see it in that light.

Conviction of a Noted Hotel Thief.

William J. Barclay, allas Bailey, was tried and convicted of grand larceny. On the morning of teh 11th of thismonth he was caught in the apertments occupied by John H. Morrell at the Grand Hotel, and was seen by Mrs. Morrell to take a diamond stud and a pocketbook containing $13 from the bureau. She awoke her husband, who, together with the employes of the hotel, pursued the thief and arrested him in the hotel. Officers from the Twenty-ninth precinet took him in charge, and upon searching him found a handsome loaded revolver and a pair of nippers such as are used by burglars on his person. Barclay was positively identified by all the witnesses, and as there was no testimony offered on the part of the defence, the jury rendered a verdict of guilty without leaving their seats.

Both before and after the conviction Mr. Howe interposed a number of technical legal objections to the indictment and the proof, all of which were overruled. was seen by Mrs. Morrell to take a diamond stud and to the indictment and the proof, all of which were overruled.

Assistant District Attorney Fellows asked to have the prisoner remanded for the purpose of furnishing proof to His Honor that in 1856 the prisoner was convicted of stealing jewelry from Tifany's establishment. Upon the conviction of larceny in a dwelling house the Court had the power to send Barclay to the State Prison for the period of eight years, but as he was such an accomplished and dangerous thief he (the prosecuting officer) thought that even a more severe sentence should be imposed.

posed.
The Recorder remanded the prisoner and postponed the sentence.

It is said that Barclay is known throughout the country as an expert and successful hotel thief.

STOKES.

The District Attorney Ready To Go On with the Trial, but Stokes' Counsel Not Ready-Another Special Plea.

Fisk, Jr., was yesterday morning brought before the Court of Oyer and Terminer, Judge Ingraham on the bench. The prisoner was accompanied by his father and brother. It is very evident that his protracted imprisonment is beginning to tell on his health. He looks careworn, his cheeks have not their former ruddy glow, his eyes have lost their animated expression and his manner is more restrained and anxious. The court room was densely crowded. Many had come, of course, to gratify their curiosity to see him and others expecting that his trial would be commenced. The proceedings, however, were very brief. District Attorney Garvin moved that the prisoner be called upon to plead to the indictment found against him for the murder of James Fisk, Jr., on the 6th day of January, 1872. Mr. McKeon asked an adjournment till next Monday, as he desired to consult with counsel on important matters affecting the plea. At present he was the only counsel the prisoner had, the other gentlemen heretofore engaged as his associates portant matters affecting the plea. At present he was the only counsel the prisoner had, the other gentlemen heretofore engaged as his associates having retired from the case for reasons best known to themselves. A sense of duty impelled him to solicit the delay he had requested, as he was not ready to proceed at the present momen!

Mr. Garvin said that the murder was committed on the 6th of January, 1872. On the 18th of the same month an indictment was found against the prisoner in this Court. Seven special pleas were interposed; they demurred to six of them and took issue on one. A stay of proceedings was granted for twenty days and a bill of exceptions put in. It was important that the prisoner should plead to-day and the trial be entered upon without delay. The summer vacation was at hand and the trial should be begun as soon as possible. The benefit of the people, the safety, honor and integrity of the country and public interest demand that the prisoner should now plead, and if the plea was made he was ready to proceed on next Monday with the trial of the case. He was alone in the case, and had been from the beginning, but stood ready to devote his time and energies exclusively to it to the end. There had already been many indulgences granted to the other side.

Mr. McKeon asked what indulgences had been granted them?

Mr. Garvin said they had been granted the indulgences of frequent delay.

Mr. McKeon said that when the word indulgence was used it supposed a favor. When the indictment was brought in they moved to quash it, and, that being decided against them, they put in special pleas, and the District Attorney could remember that they indulged him, giving him time to decide whether he would demur or plead. He claimed they had received no more than their legal rights. There had never been such a trial in this State. He felt keenly the weight of the responsibilities thrust upon him. They had reached a critical point in the case, and he had not fully made up his mind what to do, and wished to consult with an order previously granted, for a further examination.

Gordon Gordon having been regularly called in Court, and no response having been made, Mr.
Field moved that an attachment lay us for contempt
and that the complaint be stricken out.

Mr. Strahan submitted that there had been no service on Mr. Gordon, and that he ga't not know upon what papers the defendant was mo ving.

Mr. Field said the proceedings were all perfectly regular, and he now asked that the amount, of ball be fixed, and that the plaintiff show can se this morning why the complaint should not be stricken out.

Mr. Strahan contended that all these motions were pending before Judge Brady, and this proceeding would complicate matters.

After a lengthy discussion and a long delay Judge Leonard granted the order of attachment, returnthis one was almost broken in consequence of its Leonard granted time being loose. Mr. Blackford illustrated his evi- able this morning.

THE LOWDEN MALPRACTICE CASE.

Close of the Investigation-Dr. Gyles Held and Committed to the Tombs-Discharge of Mr. Trimble.

of Mrs. Mary Ann Lowden, late of 228 Thompson street, whose death it is alleged was the result of criminal malpractice at the hands of Dr. George R. Gyles, of 112 Ninth avenue, was continued yester-day morning at the City Hall, and drew a large crowd of spectators. The prisoners, Dr. Gyles and Mr. Trimble, looked quite composed, and appearances indicated that Captain Byrnes had taken good

EXAMINATION OF MR. TRIMBLE.

Thomas Trimble, of 713 Sixth avenue, was the first witness called, and deposed that he had been acquainted with deceased and her family for five or six years; have eccasionally taken deceased out riding, on business, and at intervals called at her house to see her; am acquainted with Dr. Gyles, and have known him for several years; first knew him in a business transaction about a house; Dr. Gyles never attended the family of house; Dr. Gyles never attended the family of the witness and he never recommended Dr. Gyles to Mrs. Lowden or anybody else; was on friendly terms with Mrs. Lowden's family, except the son, who insuited a friend of the witness on last New Ycar's Day, while meking a call. Mr. Howe informed the witness that he need not answer any questions tending to criminate himself, but Mr. Trimble seemed quite willing to answer readily all the questions propounded.

Mr. Lowden testifies.

Joseph N. Lowden, son of deceased, testified that on a certain occasion Thomas Trimble recommended him to Dr. Gyles, but he did not go, and never saw him till meeting him in court on Tuesday; on another occasion the witness saw Mr. Trimble and his mother together in the house at one o'clock in the morning, and, suspecting something wrong, watched them, and saw Trimble creeping up stairs in his stocking feet, with his shoes in his hand; the witness then struck Trimble on the head with his shoe; have not been on iriendly terms with Trimble since last New Year's Day; witness knew nothing concerning his mother's death except from hearsay.

TESTIMONY OF DR. MARSH.

Dr. E. T. T. Marsh was then called and testified concerning his mother's death except from hearsay.

TESTIMONY OF DR. MARSH.

Dr. E. T. T. Marsh was then called, and testified to the condition of the bed and room of deceased
previous to making the post-mortem examination,
the result of which has heretofore been announced in the Herald. Death, in his opinion, was the result of uterine hemorrhage.

Coroner Young then delivered a pointed charge
to the jury, who then retired and soon returned with the following

VERDICT:

"That Mary Ann Lowden came to her death from uterine hemorrhage, the result of an attempt at an abortion, performed, as we believe, at the hands of Dr. George R. Gyles, on the 13th day of May, 1872, at

In relation to the charge against him the accused said, "I am entirely innocent of anything of the sort or even attempting it."

Mr. Howe then arose and made a motion that, in-asmuch as his client was in delicate health, he be admitted to bail in a reasonable amount, in reply to which Coroter Young said he would deny the motion, commit Dr. Gyles to the Tombs to await the action of the Grand Jury 2nd immediately send the papers in the case to the District Attorney for such action as he thought proper. Captain Byrnes then conducted Dr. Gyles to the Tombs,

Mr. Trimble was discharged, there being no evidence to connect him with the crime charged to Dr. Gyles.

MOVING MANURE.

The Dirt and Garbage Flung Into the Gutters-Miasmas Rising from the Dead-Contagious Diseases During the Past Week.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Health. held yesterday afternoon, a report was received from the Sanitary Committee respecting the removal of manure from the street railroad and other stables in the city before six A. M. and after 8 P. M. every day. The committee were of opinion that in most of the large stables the work could not be done during the prescribed hours, and a recommendation was added to the report to the effect mendation was added to the report to the effect that if the manure was put upon the carts within the stable, and then covered with close canvas awnings, additional privileges should be given to the large concerns for the removal of the manure. Commissioner Manierre moved that a resolution be passed requesting the Board of Police to enforce ordinance 89 of the Sanitary Code, which is as follows:—

That no person shall deposit upon any street or public place within the generally built up portion of the city of New York, or upon any paved street, any dirt or brick or other material or dirt taken from any ground therein, in such manner as to occupy more than one hundred square feet of surface of any street or place (and the same shall be compact and at one side), nor allow the same to remain more than twelve hours, without a permit from this Department, or unless such occupancy shall be otherwise duly authorized by paramount authority. Nor shall any such substance be so deposited or allowed to remain by any person as to obstruct the free flowage along the gutter.

The following paper relative to compactics, vanits.

Nor shall any such substance be so deposited or allowed to remain by any person as to obstruct the free flowage along the gutter

The following paper relative to cemeteries, vanits and the burial of deceased persons, was received trom the City Sanitary Inspector:

Frequent complaints having been received at this office of the offensive odors escaping into the surrounding atmosphere from opening cemetery vavits within the city limits, for the purpose of interring deceased persons, and, from the fact, as an investigation disclosed, that these vaults are opened and left open to allow the foul air to be diluted and expelled before entering them for the purposes of burial, it would seem that the Board should take such measures, having reference to the entire shandoment, if not allimate removal, of all cemeteries or vaults for depositing the dead within the city limits. The question of burials within a densely populated city has been decided by all sanitarians and medical authority as adverse, and the time has arrived when this matter for this city should be decided by competent authority. The decomposition constantly going on in the remains of deceased persons climinates the most poisonous and noxious gases, which pass through the earth and invade the surrounding atmosphere, to be inhalted by those dwelling within its precinets. The facts with reference to the unhealthulness of the vicinity of cemeteries are too well known to need further argument. It is therefore respectfully recommended that an ordinance be passed that after a certain date no permits for the burial of deceased persons be granted for interment within the limits of this city below 1853 street, and it is further recommended that such action be taken by the Board looking to the remains of deceased persons now lying in vaults and cemeteries located within the offensive odors arising from the fix resul-

the city limits.

A committee of citizens complained to the Bureau that the offensive odors arising from the fat rending establishment at the foot of West Thirty-eighth street were of such a nature as to render life and health dangerous in that locality. The Sanitary Committee were requested to look into the matter and report next week.

THE PERTH AMBOY WAR.

Chancellor Zabriskie Steps In and Decides the Case-Tom Scott Defeated-From Jersey City to Long Branch by

An important decision was rendered in the Court of Chancery at Trenton yesterday. About a year ago the construction of a railroad to Long Branch was commenced. The President of the Long Branch Railroad Company is Mr. John Taylor Johnston, who is also President of the New Jersey Central. The new road will cross the Raritan at Perth Amboy, and here Tom Scott, who looked on the Central-Long Branch enterprise with a jealous eye, saw a chance to interfere with the execution of the project. He applied for and obtained an injunction restraining the Long Branch Railroad Company from building the bridge.

a chance to interhere with the execution of the project. He applied for and obtained an injunction restraining the Long Branch Railroad Company from building the bridge. The arguments on that injunction occupied several weeks.

Chancellor Zabriskie rendered his decision yesterday in the following terms:—"This question was asto the injunction applied for by the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company to prevent the New York and Long Branch Railroad Company from building the bridge across the mouth of the Haritan River, of which so much has been written. The Legislature, in March, 1869, passed an act authorizing defendants to cross the river by a bridge, and by the act of April 1, 1869, empowered them to have a draw in the bridge 100 feet wide. The land-to be used was near to the land owned by the Camden and Amboy Company and the injunction is asked for because some of the land to be used in the crection of the bridge is land under water, and, therefore, the defendants have no right or title to it. It was a well settled opinion that lands under water, in rivers and bays, belong to the State, and the act of 1896, which gave power to defendants to erect the bridge, vested that portion of land under water necessary for the erection in the defendants. He could not assent to the statement by counsal for the plaintins that the act does not apply. The land is given for the erection of a bridge over a navigable river right is also given to the land under the water. The State is a sovereign, and has power to give such a right without compensation. The right of defendants to build the bridge appears to be clear. The Injunction is refused and rule discharged. An Important public work should not be delayed by Injunction baless there is good reason for doubs.
